The programme covered a range of topics, including

- The basics of quantitative research, research design, data collection techniques, data analysis, and writing research reports.
- The workshop began with an introductory session on the first day, where Mr. K Himashu provided an overview of quantitative research design.
- He explained the different approaches to quantitative research, including experimental and non-experimental designs. He also discussed the advantages and disadvantages of quantitative research design and its application in different fields.
- Throughout the three days, Mr. K Himashu delivered lectures and facilitated discussions and practical exercises that provided participants with a comprehensive understanding of quantitative research design.
- The lectures covered various topics, including research design, sampling techniques, data collection methods, and quantitative data analysis techniques.
- The practical exercises were a crucial aspect of the workshop, as they helped participants apply the theoretical concepts they learned during the lectures.
- Mr. K Himashu provided participants with several case studies and research problems that required them to design research studies, select appropriate data collection methods, and analyze data. Participants worked in groups and presented their findings to the rest of the class, which encouraged collaboration and interaction among participants.
- On the second day of the workshop, a guest lecture was delivered by Mr. K Himashu, an experienced academician, and researcher. Mr. K Himashu spoke about the latest developments in quantitative research methodology and how they can be applied in different fields.
- His lecture provided participants with a broader perspective on the subject and encouraged them to think critically about quantitative research design.
- The workshop concluded with a workshop on report writing.
- Participants were given hands-on experience in writing research reports and presenting their findings.
- The workshop was a great way to wrap up the workshop, as it allowed participants to apply the knowledge they gained during the three days.

ABOUT COLLEGE:

Anwarul Uloom College of business management has carved a niche for itself over a period of two decades. Our relentless effort in imparting quality education through participatory teaching methodologies and pedagogical tools helped in chiselling personality of students. Anwarul Uloom College of business management is not just an educational institution; it is a commitment, a commitment towards building a new generation of smart and capable individuals the custodians of the future. One of the best colleges in our country, Anwarul Uloom College of business management has wide reputation for its quality of learning and a holistic approach towards grooming the students

VISION:

"To provide skill-based quality higher education by continuously striving for excellence in delivering education service to all sections of the society, especially the socio-economically under privileged minority students with focus on youth empowerment, thereby ensuring future contribution in upholding the values of national integration, secularism and social commitment".

MISSION:

The motto of the college is a verse of the Holy Quran revealed to Prophet Mohammed (saw) "READ IN THE NAME OF THY LORD". With this aim, providing higher education for the empowerment of youth of Telangana state especially the marginalized people has been the main thrust of this college.

The program covered a range of topics including

- The basics of data collection, data collection tools and techniques, survey design, and questionnaire development.
- The workshop started with an introduction session on the first day, where Mrs. Shadia Parveen provided an overview of data collection tools and techniques. She explained the different types of data collection techniques, such as surveys, interviews, and observations, and discussed their strengths and limitations.
- She also discussed the various types of data collection tools, such as questionnaires, focus groups, and case studies, and their application in research.
- Throughout the three days, Mrs. Shadia Parveen delivered lectures and facilitated discussions and practical exercises that provided participants with hands-on experience in data collection tools and techniques.
- The lectures covered various topics, including survey design, questionnaire development, sampling techniques, and ethical considerations in data collection.
- The practical exercises were a crucial aspect of the workshop, as they helped participants apply the theoretical concepts they learned during the lectures. Mrs. Shadia Parveen provided participants with several case studies and research problems that required them to design surveys, develop questionnaires, and analyze data. Participants worked in groups and presented their findings to the rest of the class, which encouraged collaboration and interaction among participants.
- On the second day of the workshop, a guest lecture was delivered by Mrs. Shadia Parveen, an experienced academician, and researcher. Mrs. Shadia Parveen spoke about the latest developments in data collection tools and techniques and how they can be applied in different fields. His lecture provided participants with a broader perspective on the subject and encouraged them to think critically about data collection.

Programme outcomes:

- The workshop concluded with a workshop on survey design and questionnaire development. Participants were given hands-on experience in designing surveys and developing questionnaires.
- The workshop was conducted by Mrs. Shadia Parveen, who guided participants through the different steps involved in designing surveys and developing questionnaires.
- The workshop was a great way to wrap up the workshop, as it allowed participants to apply the knowledge they gained during the three days.
- The outcomes of the workshop were significant, as participants gained a comprehensive understanding of data collection tools and techniques. They learned how to design surveys, develop questionnaires, and analyze data.
- The practical exercises and case studies provided participants with hands-on experience in applying the concepts they learned during the lectures. The guest lecture by Mrs. Shadia Parveen and the workshop on survey design and questionnaire development provided an extra dimension to the workshop, and participants were grateful for the opportunity to learn from experienced academics.
- Overall, the workshop on "Data Collection Tools and Techniques" at the Anwarul Uloom College of Business Management was a success. Mrs. Shadia Parveen's expertise and experience, along with the practical exercises and guest lecture, made the workshop a valuable learning experience for all participants. The workshop was a testament to the college's commitment to promoting research and academic excellence and its dedication to providing its students with the best possible learning opportunities. The participants left the workshop with a deeper understanding of data collection tools and techniques, which they can apply in their future research endeavors.

ABOUT COLLEGE:

Anwarul Uloom College of business management has carved a niche for itself over a period of two decades. Our relentless effort in imparting quality education through participatory teaching methodologies and pedagogical tools helped in chiselling personality of students. Anwarul Uloom College of business management is not just an educational institution; it is a commitment, a commitment towards building a new generation of smart and capable individuals the custodians of the future. One of the best colleges in our country, Anwarul Uloom College of business management has wide reputation for its quality of learning and a holistic approach towards grooming the students

VISION:

“To provide skill-based quality higher education by continuously striving for excellence in delivering education service to all sections of the society, especially the socio-economically under privileged minority students with focus on youth empowerment, thereby ensuring future contribution in upholding the values of national integration, secularism and social commitment”.

MISSION:

The motto of the college is a verse of the Holy Quran revealed to Prophet Mohammed (saw) “READ IN THE NAME OF THY LORD”. With this aim, providing higher education for the empowerment of youth of Telangana state especially the marginalized people has been the main thrust of this college.

ABOUT COLLEGE:

Anwarul Uloom College of business management has carved a niche for itself over a period of two decades. Our relentless effort in imparting quality education through participatory teaching methodologies and pedagogical tools helped in chiselling personality of students. Anwarul Uloom College of business management is not just an educational institution; it is a commitment, a commitment towards building a new generation of smart and capable individuals the custodians of the future. One of the best colleges in our country, Anwarul Uloom College of business management has wide reputation for its quality of learning and a holistic approach towards grooming the students

VISION:

"To provide skill-based quality higher education by continuously striving for excellence in delivering education service to all sections of the society, especially the socio-economically under privileged minority students with focus on youth empowerment, thereby ensuring future contribution in upholding the values of national integration, secularism and social commitment".

MISSION:

The motto of the college is a verse of the Holy Quran revealed to Prophet Mohammed (saw) "READ IN THE NAME OF THY LORD". With this aim, providing higher education for the empowerment of youth of Telangana state especially the marginalized people has been the main thrust of this college.

Topics covered

- The Programme covered a range of topics, including the basics of data analysis, data cleaning and preparation, descriptive statistics, inferential statistics, hypothesis testing, regression analysis, and factor analysis. In addition, the seminar also included hands-on sessions where participants were able to apply the techniques learned to real-world data sets.
- The first day of the seminar began with an introduction to data analysis and its importance in research. The facilitator highlighted the different types of data that can be used in research and provided an overview of the different stages of data analysis.
- The session also included a brief discussion of the various tools and software that can be used for data analysis, such as SPSS and Excel.
- The second day focused on data cleaning and preparation.
- The facilitator explained the importance of data cleaning and provided practical tips for identifying and addressing common data errors, such as missing values and outliers.
- The session also included a discussion of data transformations and data normalization techniques that can be used to prepare data for analysis.
- The third and fourth days of the seminar were dedicated to statistical analysis techniques. The facilitator covered a range of statistical concepts, including descriptive statistics, inferential statistics, hypothesis testing, and regression analysis.
- Participants were introduced to various statistical tests and techniques, such as t-tests, ANOVA, and chi-square tests, and were given opportunities to apply these techniques to real-world data sets.
- The final day of the seminar focused on advanced data analysis techniques, such as factor analysis and cluster analysis.
- The facilitator explained the purpose and application of these techniques in research and provided step-by-step guidance on how to conduct factor and cluster analysis using software programmes such as SPSS.
- At the end of the seminar, participants were given a final project to apply the data analysis techniques they had learned throughout the week.
- This project required participants to analyze a real-world data set and to provide a report detailing their findings and conclusions.
- Participants were given feedback on their projects and were encouraged to continue using the skills and techniques they had learned in their future research endeavors.

Objectives of the Program

- Intellectual Property Rights (IPRs) have been a topic of discussion in the business and legal world for decades.
- They provide legal protection to inventors and creators of original works such as patents, trademarks, and copyrights. Human rights, on the other hand, are fundamental rights that every individual is entitled to regardless of their nationality, race, or religion.
- In recent times, there has been an increasing interest in the intersection between intellectual property rights and human rights.
- The objective of this program was to explore this intersection and understand the various issues involved.
- The primary objective of the program was to understand the intersection between intellectual property rights and human rights. Other objectives were to:
- Understand the importance of human rights in the context of intellectual property.
- Examine the challenges involved in balancing intellectual property rights and human rights.
- Understand the role of international organizations in protecting human rights.
