Introduction:

A One-day session on Laughing Therapy – An Inexpensive Life Skill was organized at Anwarul Uloom College of Business Management on 28^h September 2018. The resource person for the session was Mrs.Raheemunnisa, Associate Professor, AUCBM.

Mrs.Raheemunnisa is a regular laughing club member at Chacha Nehru park.

Laughter therapy is a complementary therapy that uses laughter as a tool to promote physical and emotional healing. The purpose of this report is to explore the benefits of laughter therapy and how it can be used as an inexpensive life tool for improving mental and physical health.

Benefits of Laughter Therapy:

1. Stress reduction: Laughter triggers the release of endorphins, which are natural stress-fighters, and reduces the levels of stress hormones in the body.
2. Boosts immune system: Laughter has been shown to improve the immune system by increasing the production of antibodies and activating immune cells.
3. Pain relief: Laughter releases natural painkillers called endorphins, which can help in reducing pain.
4. Social connection: Laughter therapy can be done in groups, promoting social connection and reducing feelings of loneliness and isolation.
5. Improved mental health: Laughter therapy can help in reducing symptoms of depression and anxiety, improving mood, and boosting self-esteem.

Ways to Incorporate Laughter Therapy into Daily Routine:

Laughter therapy can be easily incorporated into daily routine, and it doesn't require any special equipment or training. Some ways to get started are:

Watching a funny movie or TV show.

Listening to comedy podcasts or stand-up comedy shows.

Joining a laughter therapy group.

Outcome:

Laughter therapy is an inexpensive and effective tool for promoting physical and emotional healing. It can be easily incorporated into daily routine, and it doesn't require any special equipment or training. Laughter therapy has numerous physical and mental health benefits, including stress reduction, immune system boost, pain relief, social connection, and improved mental health.

Incorporating laughter therapy into community programs and healthcare settings can be a valuable tool for improving overall health outcomes. By promoting laughter therapy as a complementary therapy, healthcare providers can offer patients an additional tool for improving their mental and physical health.

Raheemunnisa madam has drawn attention on how we have forgotten to even laugh in our daily busy schedule and leading a very superficial life. She emphasized on how laughter cures many a disease by boosting body immunity and hence one should daily laugh at least for 10 minutes alone or with a group. All the teaching staff, non-teaching staff and students attended the session.
