Title: Chaman-e- Anwaar – A Tree Plantation Drive

Objective: To contribute to the sustainable campus development a tree plantation drive was followed in the current academic year 2022-23. The drive is in support of the state wide initiative “Haritha Haram” The main objective of the programme was to increase the green cover in the campus, raise awareness among the students about a eco –friendly environment and its benefits to the society at large.

The Context:

Anwarul Uloom College of Business Management recognizes the need to contribute extensively for environmental protection. This initiative aligns with the institutional values and its commitment to foster a healthy environment for quality learning. Tree plantation drives have resulted in reducing environmental issues namely global warming, deforestation and erosion of soil. It is a well known fact that trees absorb harmful gases and emit oxygen resulting in a balanced environment and reaping the benefits of oxygen supply. As we can see that humans and animals depend on trees and plants for their survival, therefore it is highly essential to restore the damaged eco-system through tree plantation drives. The harmful practice and affects of deforestation can be controlled only by reforestation. Anwarul Uloom College of Business Management reaffirms its belief that a healthy environment is essential for a balanced growth among students.

The Practice:

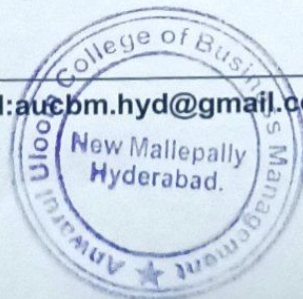

Anwarul Uloom College of Business Management with the help of its students and staff planted 15000 samplings across the campus. Compost cans and water containers were also utilized during the drive. Both boys and girl students have taken an active part in the process. This initiative is in consonance with the global vision of sustainable living.

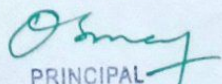

This practice has brought lot of solace and happiness to the students and they were noticeably contented with this activity. It has also improved the existing air quality. The air we breathe seems more refreshing and less in pollution.

Evidence of Success:

The survey conducted revealed that there are several positive outcomes of the plantation drive. There is improved greenery across the campus. The presence of green space was associated with improved mental health and the well-being of the staff and students. The benefits of plantation drive have not only resulted in beautification and also promoted fresh air. This will eventually give us strength to combat respiratory problems and air pollution thereby improving concentration and academic performance among students. Our college with its continued commitment exemplifies its dedication to environmental sustainability. The evidence of success positively impacts its green initiatives and contributes meaningfully to the global efforts for a sustainable future.

While emphasizing tree plantation in our college we also ensure that we nurture a sense of responsibility among students towards benefits and beautification of nature.

Problems Encountered and Resources Required:

There was resistance from the students as this initiative may cause them with lesser space for movement. After counseling and showing them the store house of benefits it has resulted in a lot of appreciation. It was observed that students developed a strong liking for it. The monetary resources were limited but leveraging the existing resources effectively has offset it. Increased need of manpower, designated areas for planting along with water sources and the need for protective fencing are to be given priority.

Title: Tahffuz-e- Qawateen

Objective: Anwarul Uloom College of Business Management is of the committed belief that Education provides ample opportunities to earn a livelihood. Since, in an era where men and women are considered equal it becomes imperative to provide equal opportunities to girls so as to create interest and the required aptitude in them for education.

Context:

Education helps both men and women lead a better life. Thus educated girls tend to be well informed whether it is a matter of their health, employment and nutrition. Similarly they play a better role in the upbringing of children particularly in education and health and to lead a hygienic life.

Status of Woman: Lucky is the woman whose first child is a daughter. She plays a very important role in looking after the household affairs. She does the role of a care-taker for her parents. She is in fact a teacher or a tutor for her siblings. She knows, understands and fine tunes the income and expenses available with the family. A house does not seem to look like “My Home” in the absence of mother, sister or a daughter. A daughter is indeed a “BLESSING”. As long as a woman remains as a daughter, she immensely contributes to the income of the family. She renders selfless service not only in her parent’s house but also in –laws house after marriage. A daughter’s presence gives a sense of happiness and fulfillment to the families. You need an emotional support, love and care then thinks of daughter. The significance of daughters in our lives is enormous. National Daughters’ Day is celebrated to recognize and acknowledge their invaluable contribution. Daughter is like a shock absorber. She goes through the pain, still she smiles and makes the family members life brighter with happiness. “Beti Bachao Beti Padhao” is the most popular slogan given by our Prime Minister.

The Practice:

Anwarul Uloom College of Business Management gives utmost importance to the cause of the Girl Child. It recognizes and acknowledges the role of education in the girl’s healthy growth. The college is of the opinion that money should not be an obstacle for their education.

women. The committees are constituted as per the UGC guidelines. They are 1. Grievance Redressal Committee, 2. Sexual Harassment & Prevention Cell, 3. Counseling Centre,

4. Disciplinary Action Committee, 5. Women Welfare Committee, 6. Mentoring Programme 7. Safety and Self Defense Centre.

Institution has a counseling center to take care of the students emotional, social and cognitive developments. Personal counseling with lady staff is provided at all times. Separate washroom facilities are provided for boys and girls. Necessary arrangement is made to protect the safety and sanitary requirements of women.

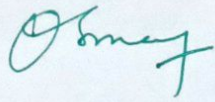

Evidence of Success:

Girl students have expressed gratitude and thanks to the Management for taking the initiative of providing the scholarship otherwise the amount of fee would remain a burden for their parents. There is also an increase in the enrolment of girl students compared to the previous academic years. The scholarship has sent across a message in the society to contribute to the upliftment and empowerment of women status in our country. The college constituted a Women Cell to explore the ways to promote women and up skill women.

Problems Encountered and Resources Required:

Even now, in most of the families of below poverty line, a girl child's education is neglected when compared to that of boy's education. All their time, money, efforts are directed towards boy's education on the basis that a girl leaves the parents house, once she is married. It is the boy, who looks after the household needs and requirements of the aged parents. So for such parents investment in girls' education seems to be of less importance. They forget that the educated girls earn higher income, participate in decision making process and can build a better future for themselves and their families. When both boys and girls are equally educated, inequality is reduced and they are treated equally with due respect. To clear the mindset of the society Anwarul Uloom College of Business Management is providing counseling sessions to parents and students to avoid a myopic view of the girl students and think on the larger picture created by her presence in the society. Depending upon the availability of funds Management dutifully allocates a major share in devising various strategies for development and growth of women.
